JOHN POWELL THRILLS AUDIENCE WITH SONATA

Splendid Ovation Greets Artist When He Appears at Woman's Club.

HAS WONDERFUL MESSAGE

Composition's Theme Not Merely for Cathedral nor Battle Field, but May Be Sung at Task of Homely Things.

BY BRENT WITT.

John Powell played his "Sonata Teutonica" at the Woman's Club last evening. As artists, critics and music-lovers many have heard of his name, but have united in their praise of this great composition of Mr. Powell. It behooves one only to speak of the theme of the composition, its meaning, its message to the world of to-day and to-morrow.

The sonata has been played on only four occasions. Abroad, great audiences rose to the artist, and their applause and "bravos" have been recorded with most favorable comment by music critics upon the pages of the leading publications of Europe. In this country Mr. Powell has had a great success, and his recitals have won him fresh laurels to add to those already gained in foreign lands.

In explaining the theme and deep, underlying meaning of his composition, Mr. Powell said that with this audience he could be frank, making demands upon their patience and understanding as he would not do of another, because he was among his own people, and right royally did they receive him. About this supreme effort of his life the artist spoke in simple, unstudied manner. It was a sketch, an impression, and he would not dwell on the details of his audience for the chain of ideas and feelings which he had attempted to embody in his sonata. One must listen to him with the same attitude one assumed toward the unfinished sketch of the draftsman.

SONATA WAS COMPLETED IN FALL OF 1913

The motif of the sonata is "The ocean is in the drop, as the drop is in the ocean," and this phrase embodies the meaning of the whole thing—not only this composition, but the whole philosophy of life. The title is the "Sonata Teutonica." It is completed September 1913, before the word Teutonic had been given a different meaning, and the word Teutonic is used in no racial sense. Anglo-Saxons, Teutons, even Franks are Teutons; but the word is used in a still broader sense. If we look back in the realm of history we find that the Teutons were not only a people, but a type of man, but of all ages. These men all had one thing in common—their sense of oneness with the universe. When we come to more recent times, we notice that the greater number of men of this type are of Teutonic origin, whether in the field of literature, music, sociology, science, or in the domain of religion.

Now, music is the logical process of expressing emotional experience. It is the essence of every high thought, every noble ambition, and in the struggle to attain this oneness, you must pass through such tragic emotion as only music may fitly transcribe.

"The idea of the sonata is this," said Mr. Powell. "People here represent many thoughts and shades of meaning, if each will take that which to you is highest, most sacred and most holy, that is what I am trying to express. Not something separate and apart from reality. Take this main central principle, and its fundamental quality will be identical with the motto—the oneness of all things."

AUDIENCE IS STIRRED BY MASTER'S HAND

The sonata is divided into three movements; first, the idea; second, from the standpoint of emotional nature, and, third, the idea acting upon this temperament. The idea is embodied in a certain morbid about it. It is full of tremendous, courageous activity—a spirit which can face a world of calamity and despair undaunted. The stirring of the great audience, the whole, typifying the principle.

The playing of the sonata followed. From the hands of the mastermaker of music came notes that thrilled and stirred the great audience. One heard the theme of victory, mingled with simple folk song, simple, home-like.

HOW TO REDUCE YOUR WEIGHT

A SIMPLE, SAFE, RELIABLE WAY.

People who are overburdened with superfluous fat know only too well the discomfort and ridicule that overcast people have to bear.

If you are carrying around five or ten pounds of unhealthy fat you are unnecessarily separating your vital organs and are carrying a burden which destroys the beauty of your figure.

There is no need of any one suffering from superfluous fat. If you want to reduce your weight in a simple, safe and reliable way, without starvation diet or tiresome exercise, here is a test worth trying. Spend as much time as you can in the open air, breathe deeply and get from Tragic Drug Co. or any good druggist a box of oil of korein capsules; take one after each meal and one before retiring at night.

Watch yourself once or twice so as to know just how fast you are losing weight, and don't leave off the treatment or even skip a single dose until you are down to normal.

Oil of korein is absolutely harmless, is pleasant to take, and helps digestion. Even a few days' treatment has been reported to show a noticeable reduction in weight, feet were lighter, your work seem easier and a lighter and more buoyant feeling takes possession of your whole being.

Every person who suffers from superfluous fat should give this treatment a trial.

melodies—all child-like fidelity and sweetness which is characteristic of the Teutonic nation; a suggestion of the aeolian harp and knightly tread. The theme of triumph, with a transition into a country dance, made to be danced only upon the greenward, follows, with a hopeless wandering in darkness, seeking and never finding, and the sound of fiendish, inhuman laughter, last of all, love not superhuman, but warm and human, with all its earthly allurements and charm.

ARTIST IS GREETED WITH GREAT OVATION

Mr. Powell said that in his sonata that thing which seemingly jarred most inevitably to harmony, thus it is in life with all its contradictions and discords.

It is a wonderful message of truth and honor and idealism, that the artist has given to the world. Its theme is the organization and a tremendous odyssey nor on the battle field, but at the everyday task of homely things.

Mr. Powell's presence at the club is always an epoch in the history of the organization and a tremendous ovation was given him last night.

CAPTAIN G. A. WALLACE DIES AT SOLDIERS' HOME

Distinguished Confederate Veteran Passes Away Suddenly After Trip From Carolina.

Captain Gustavus A. Wallace, eighty-seven years old, for many years a business man of Richmond and a veteran of the War Between the States, died yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Lee Camp Soldiers' Home, where he had been removed a few hours earlier in the day from his home in Caroline County. Captain Wallace had been in failing health for several weeks, and was removed to Richmond yesterday, arriving at 11 o'clock. The trip to this city was thought to have proved too great for his weakened condition.

Captain Wallace spent practically his entire life in Richmond, having been engaged in business here for many years. He was a son of William Wallace, a merchant of Richmond, and Catherine Lehigh. He was associated in business with his father and brothers, the late Jefferson and Charles M. Wallace, under the firm name of William Wallace & Sons, and later in the brokerage business. Captain Wallace retired from active business several years ago to his country estate in Caroline. He was captain of Company A, Fifty-ninth Regiment, Virginia Volunteers, and served with distinction throughout the war.

Captain Wallace is survived by one son, Charles W. Wallace, of Buckingham County; one daughter, Miss Margaret R. Wallace, of New York, and four nephews, William J. Wallace, of New Kent County; Jefferson and Charles M. Wallace, of Richmond, and W. W. Tapscott, of Buckingham County. No arrangements had been made last night for the funeral, which will be conducted with Masonic honors. Mr. Wallace having been a member of the Masons for many years. The interment will be made in Hollywood Cemetery.

Birth Announced.

The birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Henden, at Sturt Circle Hospital on the morning of May 29, was announced yesterday.
